WELL-EARNED VICTORY WENT TO BLUE RIDGE.

Won Over Fleet School in Game of Football Saturday by a Score of 12 to 0.

Maybe Harry Sample never played quarter-back until this year, and perhaps Reggy Morris isn't as good a football player as Soldier Boy Oliphant and likely Allen, Brown, Egerton and the rest don't compose a team that could hold the Harvard Crimson, but at any rate these boys put up a splendid game for Blue Ridge school Saturday and came back with a well earned victory of 12 to 0 over their old rivals, Fleet school.

This Saturday engagement was as pretty a football game as has ever been seen on a local gridiron, and when a large crowd of Hendersonville boosters travelled out to Fleet school they were not at all disappointed. From the start it was a thrilling game.

Blue Ridge won the toss, and chose to receive. Heine Brown ran the ball eight yards from kick off. Morris skirted left end for five. Without calling signals, Morris took the ball through the line for first down. A series of line bucks by Allen, Sample, Morris and Wilson netted another first down where three more attempts failed to gain through the strong defense of the Fleet eleven, and Wilson was forced to kick. His pretty spiral, a la Meb Long, went for forty five yards.

After much see-sawing, the quarter ended with no score. Fleet was putting up a sterling defense though they were unable to gain against the Blue and Whites. The second quarter saw some more of the same. The heavy Blue Ridge line was beginning to tell, and line bucks were working without fail for good gains, though the end runs were generally broken up by the Fleet men for a loss.

The first score came in the third period of play. Fleet chose to receive the kickoff. Being close to their own goal line they punted on the first down. Then Sample let some of his trick plays out of his sleeve and there was no stopping. Morris broke loose for two long gains on two of these trick plays, the back filed men in turn battered the rather lighter line of their opponents, and then Allen poked it across for a touchdown. Goal was missed.

At the beginning of the last period, Fleet had the ball about midway of the field, but after being tackled three times, each time for a loss, they had fourth down and twenty one yards to make. It was a good time for them to kick, but it was a sad day when Lott and Fatty Rhodes broke through the line and broke up the punt, knocking it towards the Fleet goal. Like a flash skinny little Swink started after the ball, getting it on the pickup while he was on a dead run, and being tackled from the rear just as he was getting ready to write home that he had made a touchdown. However, Sample hit the line for the necessary yard and a half needed, and once again Blue Ridge had scored. Goal was missed again.

With eight minutes more of the last quarter it looked as though Blue Ridge might score again, for the tackle plays were working like clockwork. However an attempted end run and forward pass forced Wilson to get off another long punt. Then is where that clever young Howden of the Fleet aggregation came in. He started hitting the line and though Blue Ridge could hold any other of their backs, it looked like there was no stopping to this fellow. Two yards, five yards, just any number of times looked pretty dangerous when the ball was on the thirty line, but he was finally stopped by the whistle for the end of the game.

Sample ran his Blue Ridge line well. Keeping pep in his team and saluting some beautiful plays he led his team to victory. Morris was the chief ground gainer, and perhaps gained more ground than all the twenty-one players together. Allen hit the line hard and low. Wilson's punts were surprising even to his own coaches. Swink's defensive work was stellar. Rhodes, Dermid, Lott and Craig were an invincible line, while Egerton and Brown showed that they had not forgotten the elements of tackling. Bridges was there with the "fight" also.

Ansley's work on defensive end was the prettiest on the field. This Fleet halfback broke up end runs and made Blue Ridge ashamed of their interference. Jones made some eel-like runs which netted good gains for his team, while Orr got loose for their longest run only to be hugged to the ground by big Rhodes. Green and Harrison were splendid defensive men for Fleet.

Sample did not begin his trick plays until the last of the third quarter, and almost without fail they brought long gains. The Fleet trick plays were not as effective as straight end runs, as on almost every occasion they were tackled for a loss. Good team work and coaching was evident on both sides.

Blue Ridge	Position.	Fleet
Rgerton	center	Black
Rhodes	right guard	Orr
Lott	right tackle	Perdue
Brown	right end	Howden (C)
Cample (C)	quarter	Jones
Morris	halfback	Ansley
Allen	fullback	King
Wilson	left half

Substitutions: Craig for Bridges, Bridges for Craig. Touchdowns, Allen, Sample. Time of quarters, 10 minutes. Referee, Jackson, Asheville School for Boys. Linesman, McAlpine, Fleet.

"Electricity passed through freshly cut timber renders it more resistant against decay and fungus growth according to English scientists.

"War will last another year," Lord Kitchener's prediction of three years' duration now seems in a fair way of being fulfilled.

H'VILLE DRY CLEANING MOVES INTO LARGER QUARTERS

The Hendersonville Dry Cleaning Establishment has moved into more adequate quarters in the Tom's building formerly occupied by the City Market on Third avenue, East.

Norman Miller who is the sole owner, states that he will soon have one of the most complete tailoring shops in this section of the state.

An announcement will be carried in this paper next week offering something new for the patrons of this well known establishment.

New Discovery.

Margaret, aged eleven, had just returned from her first visit to the zoo. "Well," said her mother, smiling, "did you see the elephants and the giraffe and the kangaroos?"

Margaret looked thoughtful. "We saw the elephant and the giraffe and the kangaroo-roos."

"What?" said Mrs. Blank. "The kangaroo-roos. It said 'these animals are D-a-n-g-e-r-o-u-s.'"

Nothing Doing.

Anxious Mother—Your lips are awfully red, my dear. I hope that young man who just left didn't—

Pretty Daughter (interrupting)—No, of course he didn't. If my lips are red it's because he made me so angry I bit them.

Anxious Mother—Did you get angry because he tried to kiss you?

Pretty Daughter—No; because he didn't.

Worse.

"Whenever my wife and I have a falling out my mother-in-law always takes my part."

"That's very nice of her."

"Yes, she means well, but she only makes it twice as hard for me to square myself."

Many-Sided.

"There are two sides to every argument."

"Two sides represent the minimum. Some arguments sound as if there were as many sides as there are speakers."

Different System.

"My wife constantly pesters me for money. Does yours?"

"No; the people she buys things from do that."—Boston Transcript.

Despondency.

When you feel discouraged and despondent do not give up but take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and you are almost certain to feel all right within a day or two. Despondency is very often due to indigestion and biliousness, for which these tablets are especially valuable. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv. Oct.
